

Athlos U.C.I. KOM/QOM Challenge

The 2023 Athlos UCI KOM/QOM challenge is rather simple. We are offering a $500 bonus to the UCI Elite Male and Female rider with the fastest combined sector times over three days of racing.

For all other UCI classes, including U23's and JR 17-18, we will be offering a custom champions jersey from Athlos.

The Athlos challenge is completely separate from each race finish result, meaning if you are willing to send it, you can win it!

We will have a total of 4 sectors that will count towards the challenge. There will be timing mats out on course at the start and finish of each sector that will allow us to track each riders sector time.

Sector #1-Wednesday's C1 XCO will be the first sector up for grabs with the Experience Fayetteville Power Climb. This steep climb is all about wattage. If you can throw down the power from the bottom to the top, you may just get yourself the KOM/QOM and take the early lead!

Sector #2-Friday's short track will be the second sector up for grabs with the Dell dual slalom section. You will have a short little climb before you enter this brand new section for 2023. If you can rip the corners and float the jumps, you may just get yourself the KOM/QOM.

Sectors # 3 and #4-Saturday's HC XCO. For the final day, we are going to combine the Experience Fayetteville power climb with a DH hill section, for two sectors up for grabs. The DH sector will start at the top of Arvest MTN drop, through the Orange Seal jump line and end at the bottom of the Deloitte drop.

We will then tally all four sectors at the end of the competition and award the fastest elite male and female rider who has the fastest accumulative time $500 bucks for their effort. Plus every winner of the contest will get an Athlos custom jersey made to their size for bragging rights.
